My name is Kagem, and I am the creator behind Haya Glamazon. I am a CEO of a small business & the person behind Haya Glamazon. It is currently thriving on YouTube, Instagram & on a blog where my shopping tips are read by thousands of followers.

I share curated shopping edits to show women what to buy in the world of luxury shopping & high street shopping.

The majority of my followers & subscribers are from the US, UK, Europe, Singapore, the Middle East and the APAC region.

When I suggest something to my followers and subscribers, they instantly engage with me and click on what products I suggest for them. I am authentic and driven, while always looking to curate products that make my subscribers lives better.
